Words to End All Wars: Correspondence During the Great War

Remembering the Great War in Grade 10

Photograph and letter from: "Words to End all Wars:
Correspondence During the Great War".

The Oakville Museum at Erchless Estate explores the words of the First World War in the exhibition "Words to End all Wars: Correspondence During the Great War". Understand the emotions and experiences of Oakville's soldiers through their writings in diaries, letters and poems and feel the effect the war had on the homefront.

"Remembering our Own" gives students hands on experiences with primary documents and artifacts from the First World War. Students will develop their practical critical-thinking and research skills through activities directly linked to the Ontario Curriculum for Grade 10 History.

Program length: 2 hours
Fee: $5.00 per student
Maximum 30 students
